We don't have a gun problem, we have a sin problem! - posted by docseth1, on: 2013/1/19 13:56
We don't have a gun problem in America, we have a sin problem. Blaming guns is just another way that we skirt around the real issue. Until the real issue is addressed, we will continue to see violence in our streets and schools. Until we silence and stop the war that's going on in our own hearts, we will never stop them elsewhere. Pascal was right when he wrote, "It is in vain, O Men, that you seek within yourselves the cure of all your miseries." The scriptures tell us that the heart of man is both evil and wicked. The answer to that problem is the blood of Jesus. What can wash away my sins, nothing but the blood of Jesus. This truth confronts us with another sin problem - one that exists in the Church. It is the sin of omission. We are failing to bring Jesus (the real solution) to the lost. Because of this, sin abounds. We blame the politicians and the government; anyone but our self. This is not a political issue; it is theological and spiritual. The Church alone has the answer for this world. Let the Church be the Church!

Re: We don't have a gun problem, we have a sin problem! - posted by Heydave, on: 2013/1/19 14:52
It could be reasonably argued that because there is a sin problem, that is why you need gun control! :)

Re: We don't have a gun problem, we have a sin problem! - posted by proudpapa, on: 2013/1/19 15:21
Hi docseth1
I do not think we even have as much of a gun problem as what the entertainment media and socialist agendas would have some think, I live in the rural buckle of the bible belt, every home is full of guns absolutely full of them. People are dying left and right around here but not from gun violence, but rather from vehicular crashes and cancer. Maybe we should also outlaw the automobile because some are not lawfully using their automobiles

I wonder if our friends from the UK can leave their homes and vehicles unlocked as we do here in the buckle of the bible belt.

Re: , on: 2013/1/19 15:56
Quote:
------------------------
I wonder if our friends from the UK can leave their homes and vehicles unlocked as we do here in the buckle of the bible belt proudpapa
------------------------

Only when were armed to the teeth brother. Only when were armed to the teeth.

Re: - posted by docseth1, on: 2013/1/19 15:59
I'm not arguing for or against gun control, just trying to point out the root problem.

Re: amrkelley - posted by proudpapa, on: 2013/1/19 17:10
Hi amrkelley
The reality is where I live we do not have to be armed to the teeth, because the reality is since some are, it is a real deterrent of crime, certainly living 30 plus minutes from the nearest law enforcement the law offers very little deterrent of crime, I am not advocating self defence, I am just making the point of the clear reality that the lack of gun laws in our country as far as my area is concerned deter much more crime than what they are used in crime. If they outlaw guns in our country, only outlaws will have guns.