Birthday gifts for families moving abroad - posted by dvndsn, on: 2013/5/13 16:07

All, my family and I are moving to SE Asia to be missionaries in mid-July. A problem that has presented itself is the issue of birthday gifts for our children. The youngest is turning 1 this week, and our other is 3 in July. We're packing light (6 suitcases) and therefore cannot take much with us. I am stumped at what to tell family and friends to get them! I realize they probably won't get much anyways, but I feel sorry for my parents who wish to spoil their grandchildren.
