

Miracles that follow the plow :: really need your prayers really need your prayers - posted by bible4life (), on: 2013/6/22 0:51

Some of my old problems have started up again this week, i don't have the strength to go through this again i dont think, please keep me in your prayers.

Look to the Lord of Glory; be swept up in His love, His mercy and His faithfulness. Trust Him; for He is the only one trust worthy. Keep your gaze to Him and Him alone. For no arm of the flesh can help you. Do not trust your heart, for it is deceitful. Oh that you would run to Him, with all the you have. Be embraced by Him and sit in His love.

May the Love of Christ be a new reality for you and may His love burn deep within.

Peace and blessings,

Jeremy

Hi, I hope you can persevere. I remember moving to a city in my youth as a young Christian and thought I had the world at my feet. I was catapulted into terrible darkness though and didn't know how to handle it. I eventually realised as time has gone on how the only secure place is to follow and obey Jesus.

God bless.
