When you know better, you do better. How can we, as Christians, get our message out that we can be transformed through the power of Jesus Christ? For all you naysayers, I am not going away. We need to get off our blessed assurance, stop running scared and stand up for righteousness. As Scripture teaches, "You love righteousness and hate wickedness" (Ps. 45:7, NKJV).

Our kids' lives depend on it! As we sit and watch TV, all we see is the homosexual community taking over the airwaves. Why? because they are moving forward and not looking back. They have a game plan, and that plan is to get into our schools and change the mindset of our children, and in turn they, the children, will change the culture.

Let me say this in plain English: The gay community wants to indoctrinate an entire generation of American children with pro-homosexual propaganda and eliminate traditional values from American society. Their ultimate dream is to create a new America based on sexual promiscuity in which the values you and I cherish are long forgotten.

As I read what those amazing One Million Moms did by calling Disney to shut down the airing of lesbian moms on the show Good Luck Charlie, I felt relieved to know we are still fighting for what is valuable. That was a bold move, and I commend them for taking a stand.

However, does something like this have to happen in order for us to get involved with this issue that is polluting our airwaves? Why can't we, as the church, be proactive instead of reactive?

It likely will not happen apart from a wholesale revival in the churches. Adultery, fornication has long been accepted 'via forgiveness' without repentance in the church. Homosexuality is merely another form of adultery and fornication just as bestiality is. Leadership in many churches are involved in porn, adultery...the problem is that there is no fear of God within man. God is merely a Santa Claus whose goal is to make people happy...

I wonder at God's longsuffering and when He withdraws it, woe is man!

Personally I think we are living in the best times we could be around in. I have read books about the reformation, I have read Acts about the early church.

But I live in this generation and what God says he will do in this generation is that he will raise hundreds of thousands of ordinary servants for His end-time work of ministry.

What he will do is far greater than the early church far greater than reformation.

So prepare your heart and become a ready servant, equipped and prepared for his great, last-day outpouring and you will see His glory come alive in you in this final hour.
