

News and Current Events :: A Hollywood movie about a worldwide flood???

A Hollywood movie about a worldwide flood??? - posted by UntoBabes (), on: 2013/11/18 21:05

Just saw the trailer to this Hollywood movie starring Russell Crowe that sounds and looks amazingly accurate Biblewise. Any feedback?

<http://youtu.be/8shoKO1Y3p0>

Re: A Hollywood movie about a worldwide flood??? - posted by SteveHale (), on: 2013/11/18 23:55

The trailer looked good, but it could be hiding the propaganda that is in the movie. I found this on the net - When Christian screenwriter Brian Godawa acquired a copy of the script in October 2012, he posted an evaluation on his website with the title "Darren Aronofsky's Noah: Environmentalist Wacko". Comparing it to what is said in the Bible, he said "If you were expecting a Biblically faithful retelling of the story of the greatest mariner in history and a tale of redemption and obedience to God youâ€™ll be sorely disappointed." He predicted that the film "will be rejected by millions of devoted Bible readers worldwide because once again it subverts their own sacred narrative with a political agenda of pagan earth religion that is offensive to their Faith."

Re: A Hollywood movie about a worldwide flood??? - posted by wijnand (), on: 2013/11/19 2:58

I have seen some trailers, but it doesn't have anything to do with christianity or the God of the bible as far as I can see.

Non-christian actors, non-christian story, a lot of hollywood 'magic'... I think I need to be crazy to watch it...