Husband and Wife Who Converted to Christianity Shot by Muslim Family Members - posted by sermonindex (), on: 201

A Pakistani man and his wife who converted to Christianity were severely persecuted and shot by family members.

The couple, Aleem and Nadia Masih, had gotten married about a year ago after Nadia converted to Christianity from Islam.

Nadia's Muslim family continually threatened the couple so that they fled Lahore, Pakistan and began traveling to a town called Narang Mandi, about 37 miles from Lahore, according to the Christian Post.

Nadia's father and brothers pursued the couple as they traveled to Narang Mandi, overtaking them on the road. ...
