

Christian Dentist Faces Lawsuit for Playing Christian Music, Holding Daily Prayer at Work - posted by sermonindex (), c

A Michigan dentist who's facing a lawsuit by four former employees for "religious discrimination" argues that she's being attacked for her Christian faith.

The lawsuit, filed in August 2015, alleges that Dr. Tina Marshall of Lake Orion, Michigan, constantly played Christian contemporary music in the office and held mandatory, daily prayer meetings for employees. The employees also argue that they were fired for not following their employer's workplace requirements regarding religion.

read more: <http://www.christianpost.com/news/christian-dentist-michigan-faces-lawsuit-playing-christian-music-daily-prayer-155098/>