Pope Francis and Russian Orthodox patriarch to hold historic meeting, on: 2016/2/5 11:48

"Pope Francis will travel to Cuba later this month to meet Patriarch Kirill of the Russian Orthodox church, the first such encounter of its kind in history, the Vatican has announced.

The pope will arrive in Havana on 12 February and be greeted by Cuba's president, Raul Castro, before holding a private meeting with Kirill. It will be the first time a pope has met a Russian patriarch and shows a significant warming of relations between the two churches since they split almost 1,000 years ago."

Oh boy indeed! Slowly but surely the wool is being pulled over the eyes of the folks as the religions of the world unite. We are on the cusp of the "we all worship the same God but just call Him by different names," movement. This is a grand delusion which will cause a great number of people to stumble.....bro Frank
