Shalom

Some of you might remember that I'm a bit involved with the "underprivileged" and quite a while ago I had a housemate who was on drugs etc. and several of you are or were praying. Thank you!! Just like to give you a bit of an update. What is happening in the dark world and what my mate has gone through is so complex that I don't even try and explain it. The situation is now that his life is in danger from gang members. At the same time the fear of the Lord might now come on him.

He asked me if we can go to Church (again) - he will think about this Jesus.

Please pray for a breakthrough and his salvation, maybe also for me, for wisdom and strength, it is "hell" out there in the dark world. Will explain this a bit more later. Peace be with you!

Prayed for this man and that he will indeed be saved to the uttermost, brother

I had prayed for some time for this man when you first posted about him quite awhile back. I will start back up. It scares me to think of what it may take in some people's lives (most especially my own sons) but by comparison, we cannot even begin to think of the horror of eternal damnation. Whatever it takes, Lord...

Prayed - trusting that God will continue to work in that man's life.

Agreeing with you all I pray.

Lord Jesus, reveal yourself to this man. Pour out your Holy Spirit upon this man. May he know the depth, height, width and breadth of your great love for him. Pluck him out of the darkness he is in. Thank you, Precious Lord.
