

Miracles that follow the plow :: If you're praying for me....*If you're praying for me.... - posted by dolfan (), on: 2016/4/26 9:54

If you're praying for me this morning or in the last hours or day (and it may be someone else), thanks. For some strange reason, I just think someone is. Never thought that before "in real time".

Re: If you're praying for me....., on: 2016/4/26 12:13

I have felt this kind of thing before and had a strong sensation that someone was praying for me. An uplift of spirit and sense of lightness and hope filling my heart. When we get to Glory we shall learn of all these times brother when others prayed for us. Regardless of who and when it is so reassuring that the Lord considers us the apple of His eye and is always looking out for us to lift us up. The Lord is good to us brother!