I thought this was done by Bill Gothard years ago.

I think he created a book from the story

I never heard Otto Koning, I so enjoyed his testimony on the pineapples!!!

Thanks so much for sharing. I was enthralled with the story and love how candid and humorous it was. He wasn't trying to impress anyone but used his transparency and failures as a way to communicate such great truth!!

I'm sure he's received a lot of judgment and criticism by being so candid, but quite frankly, I wonder how many of his acc users have moved their whole families to a remote island and risked their lives and health to reach people for Christ.

God bless this man and ministry.

Love in Christ,

This man is in his 80's now. We were blessed to hear him a number of times live. I hope it is ok to share this site with more of his messages. If not, feel free to take this down, Brother Greg...

Is Otto Koning a Seventh Day Adventist? That's why he was growing pineapples, wasn't it?!! LOL (Sorry, my sense of humor!)

I watched that movie 2 times and I loved every moment of it, it blessed my heart...and I agree I loved his candidness about his weaknesses.
