Just watched a trailer called Silence that a few might be interested in. I've heard so much about how Japan has tortured and killed missionaries through the centuries.

It's based on a book from 1966 about two Jesuit priests who travel to Japan to locate their mentor who has committed a postasy after being tortured in the 17th century.

The film is scheduled for release in the United States on December 23, 2016.

If you are interested, search youtube with the following: "Silence Official Trailer #1 (2017)" with Andrew Garfield, Liam Neeson.

God bless,
Lisa

PS: If you want to see the movie, fine, if not then don't see it!! Please do not use this thread to find fault with Jesuit priests and such. Thank you!

This reminds me of The Mission movie of the 80's which was very good also.
