

downloading, on: 2017/5/22 22:43

how do i download sermons

Re: downloading - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2017/5/23 7:08

Q. How Do you download the audio sermons?

Answer. To download the audio sermons to your desktop simply right click on the sermon titles and choose save target as. A dialogue box will open and rename the sermon file to the title of the sermon and the speaker adding the .mp3 extension on the end of the file. If a .php shows up as the download file simply rename it to .mp3 (or .pdf if it is an ebook file) and it will work.

Q. How Do you download multiple sermons automatically?

Answer. To download multiple sermons automatically we have created a SermonIndex Software application that you can download on your desktop computer. We encourage believers to download many or all of the 250GB mp3 archive with this tool to help share these sermons with others and provide multiple backups of them all around the world. Here are the installers for the Software: Windows, Linux, Mac. (The linux and mac version of the software requires technical knowledge please view this article for help).

from: <https://www.sermonindex.net/contact.php>