My brother Christian was just diagnosed with brain tumors. He just had part of his lung removed and it looked like the cancer was going into remission. Please pray for him.

Praying in agreement Nigel.

Also praying for wisdom for you and that God may reveal the root of this disease and that the root may be cursed and healing may spring forth. That healing may come in spirit, soul and body.

Many times we see only the disease in the body and forget that the source or the root may be spiritual or emotional first, so I pray that God may heal your brother's spirit first, bring peace to his soul and healing in his body.

I ask that you would address these issues with him if you are able, dear brother.

God bless,
