

General Topics :: End times stuff and Jerusalem the capital city.*End times stuff and Jerusalem the capital city., on: 2017/12/8 19:42

It is always dangerous to write about end times. There has to be a lot of humility even when you broach the subject and a willingness to agree to disagree. Anyone who tells you that "this is the way it is going to happen," you can take with a pinch of salt. The reason I am writing this short piece is because a few people have asked me if I think there is any significance for the end times in regards to the USA recognizing Jerusalem as the capital of Israel.

Short answer, yes, just because I think everything that happens to Israel and more specifically Jerusalem is significant. I think it actually might lead to a major peace deal, the one spoken of in Scriptures, a seven-year comprehensive peace deal and all the world will celebrate, but when they say "peace, peace," there will be no peace and half way through that deal it will all fall to pieces. Let me give you the relevant Scripture from where we get the notion that there will be a seven-year comprehensive peace deal.

Dan 9:27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

Mat 24:15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand:)

Mat 24:21-22 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

1Th 5:2-3 For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

Rev 13:7-8 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations. And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

So, the typical understanding of the abomination of desolation is that it takes place in the Temple, a Temple. Of course at this moment we do not have a Jewish temple in Jerusalem so most suppose a third temple has to be erected in order for this prophecy to take place. I disagree, for a couple of reasons. First I believe the saints themselves to be the third temple with God dwelling inside each of them, each of them being a living stone. Secondly in Matthew 24 Jesus refers to the "Holy Place." Now, the ground upon which the Temple was built was a holy place. If you do the research you will see that the site of the Temple itself had a long rich history and so was not built on a random site. So what is there now? Right now we have the Dome of the Rock and the Al Aqsa Mosque. The Dome was completed in 692 and this makes it one of the oldest Muslim holy places in the world.

So that is some of the history and Scriptures that allude to this topic, now back to the USA recognizing Jerusalem as the capital of Israel. Many if not most scoff at the notion that someone like Trump could be part of a final comprehensive peace deal in the Middle East. I want to remind everyone that there was another President that people openly mocked and scoffed as a buffoon, President Regan. Yet he was the one that brought down the mighty Soviet empire and the Berlin wall, the symbol of separation of east and west. Now we know that God raises up the foolish things of this world to confound the wise. The recognizing of Jerusalem as the capital city is the first step towards the peace deal that we know has been foretold.

So I believe that when you see all three religious leaders of the world come together in the "Holy Place," to combine the religions of the world then this is the abomination, the birth of the great whore church. What disaster or disasters that bring this about I cannot tell you but it will come to pass. The world will be so sickened by terrorism, perhaps after the the largest atrocity the world has ever seen, that the people of the world will demand a coming together. The leaders of the religious world will meet, at the demands of the political leaders of the world, at the holy site, the holy place, the Dome as it is now. They will tell the world that each of them believe Abraham to be their mutual father of faith and that Abraham's God is their God whether they are Christian, Jewish or Muslim. It will be a day that the world will celebrate and exchange gifts to commemorate true world peace. And the cry will be "peace and safety."

The only people of the world who will resist this will be the saints and they will incur the wrath of the whole world. They will be seen as a cancer in society that has to be ripped out. The religious and political leaders will point to them and tell the world that these so-called Christians are the source of all the world's problems. And so war shall be made upon the saints and they shall be overcome for a time as every tribe and tongue and nation worship the one world government and the one world religion. In fact it will be so severe that if God Himself does not shorten those days then there would be no saints left on the earth.

I believe that all these things are shortly to come upon us. It is a good thing to be prepared just as Jesus prepared in the garden before the crucifixion. We are called to endure to the end, saints. We are called to overcome and stand in the evil day. Our God will be with us and He will pour out His Spirit upon us so that we may have the strength to endure. He is God that keeps His promises and He shall never leave us nor forsake us.....bro Frank

Re: End times stuff and Jerusalem the capital city. - posted by TMK (), on: 2017/12/8 20:39

Frank you seem to be saying the tribulation will be suffered only by the remnant and not the world in general, but I wanted to make sure this is what you are saying. I do not believe I have heard that interpretation before. I have heard the version set forth by Art Katz that Jews would be the target of the great persecution.

Re: , on: 2017/12/8 21:26

Hi Todd, as you probably know, it is a very complicated set of circumstances in the end of ages. Many different views and so on. Each saint has to study the Word for themselves by the Holy Spirit and be convinced, fully persuaded, in what they believe. So here is my short answer to your question.

Dan 9:27 starts the seven year period and the seals (Rev 6:1-2)

First seal is opened and the rider of the white horse appears, probably the antichrist.

Second seal opens and a great war begins.

Third seal opens and we see runaway inflation and famine probably caused by the war.

Fourth seal opens and a fourth of the folks and the creatures are destroyed, this is well over a billion people.

Fifth seal opens and the remnant saints are martyred in earnest.

Six seal is opened and God's wrath produces a mighty earthquake of biblical magnitude takes place.

Seventh seal is opened and then follows the day of His wrath and the trumpets and so and so forth brother. All the way along the saints are being persecuted and it just gathers steam. This is just a short answer, you know your Bible brother so you can finish it but here are a few scriptures

For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. (Mat 24:21-22)

Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. (Mat 24:29-31)

General Topics :: End times stuff and Jerusalem the capital city.

You see brother, after the tribulation is over it is then that the Lord returns and gathers His own, His remnant, those who endured and overcame, those who were martyred will come with Him.....bro Frank

Re: - posted by TMK (), on: 2017/12/8 22:49

It's definitely not pre-trib- your explanation helps because as you explain it worldwide trouble is concurrent with religious persecution.

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/9 9:52

One thing can be counted on. The issue of who is to control Jerusalem and the accompanying "what's to be done with the Jews in Palestine" problem is not going to go away and will eventually threaten world peace. The nations, or the humanistic leadership of nations, will likely take an even more dramatic shift against Israel as Israel maintains a unmovable attitude over the issue of Jerusalem. This controversy of Zion will become the epi-center of world geopolitical problems and the Jews will once again become the main culprits in the eyes of the nations. This controversy will be in the heart and middle of events swirling around the end of the age. It's said Christ may walk through the eastern gate upon His second advent to Jerusalem. Therefore the Muslims have sealed up the eastern gate and have a graveyard on the outside built up to the gate in hopes that the Christian and Jewish Messiah would not walk through a graveyard. Likewise, the principalities and powers know that when Christ has returned and is secure in Jerusalem that their sway and hold over the minds of men in this present evil age is over and done with. Hence the latter day controversy of who should own and have control of Jerusalem.

Re: - posted by Heydave (), on: 2017/12/9 17:05

Hi Frank,

I have a very similar understanding as you on these events. what I thought was interesting was that you seem to see the seals unfolding concurrently with the trumpets and vials. I also see it that way, i.e. they describe the same period of Tribulation in different detail, but I've not heard anyone else state this.

Re: , on: 2017/12/9 17:48

Dave writes...

I have a very similar understanding as you on these events. what I thought was interesting was that you seem to see the seals unfolding concurrently with the trumpets and vials. I also see it that way, i.e. they describe the same period of Tribulation in different detail, but I've not heard anyone else state this.

â-â-â-â

I have always thought that the seals and the bowls and the trumpets were all occurring at the same time myself. Also I'm wondering if in some ways the seals are not being opened even now. Particular the seal describes the martyrs.

Anyway. Just pondering.

Blaine

Re: , on: 2017/12/10 0:15

Hi Dave, I do see it that way, always have. Not claiming any special revelation but in the reading of the Word, this is how it reads to me. Before coming to Jesus at the age of 26, I had not grown up in a religious house with theories and doctrines of end times and so on. So, no pre-conceived notions, a virgin to the Scriptures so to speak as I am sure many who were saved as adults would testify to as well.....bro Frank

Re: - posted by Pnutty (), on: 2017/12/10 10:52

Does it seem that the seals, and the bowls etc are 4 viewpoints of the same events like the Gospels are four views. So 1111 2222 3333 etc? The first advent and the second advent.

I think a very literal temple is to be built.

Nothing is too hard for God. It seems like a tiny earthquake or a muslim missile, instead of intercepted by Israel, can be redirected right into the mosque by the hand of God.

It is the LAND that is important.

Re: - posted by deltadom (), on: 2017/12/10 11:08

Daniel 9

27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate

The reason I do not believe it is a peace treaty because it is not clear from this verse , to me from this passage it says sacrifice and oblation shall cease and that cannot happen in a non literal temple

I also struggle with it being a peace treaty as there has been so many peace treaties with Israel which one is it and it is not clear from the scriptures that it is a peace treaty

2 Thessalonians 2

3 Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4 Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

In the passage in 2 Thessalonians 2

it says that the antichrist sits in a literal temple to me this is not to far fetched as the temple institute have all the requirements to build the third temple, the menorah and other temple vessels , even the plans

Maimonides has requirements for a Jewish Messiah and building the temple is one of them and no jew who is orthodox will accept an antichrist who does not build the third temple god bless you apollo as you are a lovely brother god bless Dom

Re: - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2017/12/16 11:35

Interesting how others are saying what I have concluded, too...many of these judgments as described in Revelation are describing the same event but from a different perspective. (We know the Gospels did the same with the life of Jesus.) I generally do not share this sense much because I was not sure how to explain it although I did start with drawing a chart but got sidetracked and never finished it. And if you do share this someone will be sure to come and knock it down, but even then the conviction still remains.

In observing the conflicts that have engulfed society, reading Revelation gives me a sense of peace because we are told that all calamities are happening under the supervision of God. And....history teaches us the world is EVIL and we have to learn to accept that it always will be until Jesus return.

Sandra

Re: , on: 2017/12/16 14:35

Dominic writes.....

"The reason I do not believe it is a peace treaty because it is not clear from this verse , to me from this passage it says sacrifice and oblation shall cease and that cannot happen in a non literal temple I also struggle with it being a peace treaty as there has been so many peace treaties with Israel which one is it and it is not clear from the scriptures that it is a peace treaty"

Lets suppose brother, that the temple is you and I. Do you praise God brother publicly on a Sunday morning or at other times? Is that not the sacrifice of praise? Oblation simply means to present or offer something to God. I believe that the anti-christ will rid the public square of all things holy. They will cease to be and he will cause it to be so. Any saint, in those days, who tries to praise God or honor God or exalt His name anywhere publicly will be rounded up. As for the treaties, this treaty, this comprehensive treaty will take place in the 70th week, so, at the end of times.

And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and swore by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.(Dan 12:7)

God's people shall be scattered for three and a half years and just when it looks dire and without hope, then God shall come. Just as in the public ministry of the Lord, three and a half years ending in the humiliation, torture and horrific death of Jesus and darkness covered the land and then, up from the grave He arose with a mighty triumph over His foes!!! Victory from the very jaws of what seemed like certain defeat. The victory for the saint comes in the depths of the dungeons. Those who will prevail are those who shall endure and overcome. If we love God more than life then we shall endure until the end and not just endure but cry glory even in the midst of gross darkness. The enemy shall never silence the praises of His people even though He try to kill everyone of us to shut the mouth of Jesus. The enemy killed every child of a certain age in a great slaughter and laments were heard, but, hark the Herald angels sing, glory to the new born King, above the weeping of grieving mothers the cries of our deliverer was heard. The enemy failed and Christ prevailed and as it was then so it ever shall be until that day dawns and the morning star rises in your heart.....bro Frank

Re: AOD spoken of four times by Daniel - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/16 20:08

Many assume the abomination of desolation is spoken of only in Daniel 9:24-27. It's also recorded in Daniel 8:13, 11:31 and 12:11. Considered together it seems there is scant room to believe a literal temple is not included in the overall context. Nor is a symbolic non literal AC/man of sin being spoken of.

Jesus said when you SEE the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the prophet let those in Judea flee for this event will begin tribulation such as never occurred. Jesus could not have been more clear and personally directed believers to the prophet Daniel. It's detrimental to ignore His instructions. The AOD will be the most specific clue of clues of clues that the final crisis of mankind will have begun culminating in Jesus' physical second advent. A church that knows what to look for will recognize the AOD for what it is (the most clear and specific sign Jesus gave) and will not be left in the dark wondering what to look for.

Re: - posted by TMK (), on: 2017/12/16 22:23

https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/Abomination_of_desolation

Re: - posted by TMK (), on: 2017/12/16 22:30

Truly I tell you, this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things have happened.
Mark 13:30 (my emphasis).

There is no indication in the Olivet Discourse that when Jesus says "you" he means anything other than his direct audience who asked him the initial question which initiated the discourse.

Re: , on: 2017/12/16 22:45

Jesus says in Matthew 24.....

"Mat 24:15 "When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand:)"

Jesus brings clarity to the OT. He says Holy place, this is something different than temple. OT reader could not even begin to imagine that the temple would be torn down and not one stone would be left un-turned, nor could they have imagined that that an idolatrous temple would stand in its place. Yet, none of that means that the ground upon which it stands is still considered to be holy ground. Let us remember that the clue is in this part "whoso readeth, let him understand." ...
.....bro Frank

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/16 23:23

"Who so readeth let him understand," means the reader can understand that when the abomination of desolation is SEEN which the prophet Daniel spoke of then it can be understood that the end of the age and Christ's second coming is near and will be preceded by a unprecedented time of trouble and distress such as has never occurred nor ever will again. Let the reader understand. With no literal temple then I suppose there is no literal AC/man of sin. Hence, the interpretive mode of over spiritualization of prophecy once again actually ends up blurring the picture.

Re: , on: 2017/12/16 23:31

There is a literal anti-christ I believe. Believing the temple is not literal does not preclude believing in a literal anti-christ. Anyone who speaks with absolute assurance in regard to end times is simply deluding himself, there must be a humble approach in regard to this subject. If one disagrees on matters of the end times with another brother and sister they would simply have to agree to disagree.....bro Frank

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/16 23:36

TMK,

The problem with this type of view I think is that the final time of trouble which Daniel spoke of (Daniel 12:1) and Jesus spoke of (Matt 24:21) is in close proximity of time to the resurrection. Jesus in Matthew 24:21 was making reference to Daniel 12:1 - a time of distress and tribulation such as has never occurred. Then Daniel 12:2, the very next verse, speaks of the resurrection - many that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awaken. The tribulation that ends the age is in close time proximity to the resurrection that signals the end of the age.

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/16 23:45

I agree appolus. It's a little late and I was thinking I may found a little brusque. So I hear you.

I just have a hard time understanding how a literal AC can walk into each believer if believers are the temple being referred to. How can a literal AC walk into the new birth and new man in Christ within each of us? That has always been my question on this issue.

Thanks.

Re: , on: 2017/12/17 0:26

Hi David, if you read what Jesus actually says, he says Holy place He did not say Temple. There is a perfectly good Greek word for temple yet it was not used, rather the place where "he stands," is the holy place. The great abomination is the joining of the three major religions of the world thus bringing peace not only to the Middle East but to the whole world and the whole world will rejoice, but not the saints.....bro Frank

Re: End Times End Times - posted by savannah, on: 2017/12/17 0:52

End times End Times
In 2017
Antichrist Antichrist
Will soon be on the scene

Tribulation Tribulation
For seven years
Like the Great Alexander
Is all one hears

Rapture Rapture
Take me away
Don't be left behind
Is what they say

One thousand years
Just like one day
We will reign with Him
Is what they say

Pre Mid Post
Or something like that
One and all
Must be blind as a bat

Israel Israel
Americans say
Be her friend
And you'll be okay

Born a Jew die a Jew
In His favor
It really doesn't matter
If Jesus was their Savior

Relativity is relative
It's just a theory
All this end times talk
Just makes us weary

What's happened to the Gospel
Just preaching Christ
This end times stuff
Is the cause of the heist

Let's get back to the fundamentals
And the old old story

Not a baby in a manger
But the Lord of Glory

If angels sing about it
So can I
Now fall on your knees
And worship Him on High

He brought to an end
Sacrifice and oblation
Destroyed that temple
And made us a Holy Nation

Let's proclaim the praises
Of Him Who lives
Who called us out of darkness
And always gives

A light to all the nations
We're called to be Going into all the world
That they would Jesus see

To everything there is a season
And certainly an end
So after we're all done reading this
May all our knees bend - RF

Re: - posted by deltadom (), on: 2017/12/17 3:25

One of the specifications of the Jewish Messiah is to build the third temple ,the Jewish Messiah will be the antichrist

<http://jewsforjudaism.org/knowledge/articles/maimonides-laws-pertaining-messiah/>

the Bible is a Jewish book

this is why I believe it to believe it to be a literal temple with the temple institute already having the plans and things ready god bless

Dominic

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/17 6:33

All this end time stuff concerns Christ finishing the work He began at His first advent. Why does the end of this age and the events to occur profusely fill the pages of the Bible if they are irrelevant? Eschatology has become the only area of Biblical truth that is treated as unimportant to know. The end of the age is also going to reap a monumental and exceedingly great abundance of souls as it is preached that God was in Christ and His atonement reconciling sinners unto Himself. The preaching of the cross will take a center place and prominence in the true church at the end of the age.

Re: - posted by deltadom (), on: 2017/12/17 14:45

I am upset with teaching such as the world will be christianised and then Jesus will return or that everyone when they become a Christian they will be healthy and wealthy as it produces atheists

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/17 15:26

"The Holy Place" was the common term used to describe the site of the temple and the holy place contnd therein. Jesus was only repeating the common usage during His days. When he said the holy place it was clearly understood He was referring to the temple.

Where is there scripture to support the view that three major religions will come together band achieve world peace? It seems possible there might be a broad coalition of sorts along the lines of z 10 nation confederacy.

And following from that and respectfully making a observation, if the desolation is three world religions coming together then it seems the desolation would be performed not by a personal AC/man of sin (II These 2:1-10) but by a confederation of religions. Paul seems pretty clear in identifying the man of sin as a "he" - a person. "HE will exalt HIMSELF" (II Thes s 2:1-4).

Re: , on: 2017/12/18 0:55

Hi David, I understand that the term holy place does not support the temple view, but we have to stick with the words God Himself used and after using it we are told to make sure we understand what was just said. The ground itself was always considered "the holy place," and there is a structure, actually two, there right now on the holy place.

If you want to study who the great whore church you might want to start in Rev 17 David.bro Frank

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/20 15:27

How then can the term holy place not support the temple view when the holy place was within the temple? The holy of holies.

My view also is that the great whore of Rev 17 is not referring to a apostate church but to a apostate Jerusalem. The great whore of Rev 17 is riding the trans-historical great red dragon/beast. It is Jerusalem. This is because at the end of Rev 17 and the whole of ch 18...take a marker and start in verse 1 and trace the pronouns..."her" and see she turns into "that great city" and then go to Rev 11 and see that "that great city" becomes Sodom and Egypt where our Lord was crucified (Rev 11:8). This is Jerusalem. Yet the great city has a determined destiny because of its ultimate election that has always set it apart. It will be destroyed during the final events of this present age but will be rebuilt during Christ's coming reign over the earth and will be known as the city of peace.

Re: , on: 2017/12/20 15:47

And so we disagree David, which is fine. Talk to a thousand good men on this subject and you may well get a thousand different answers.....bro Frank

Re: , on: 2017/12/20 15:52

Dominic writes...

â€œâ€œâ€œ the Bible is a Jewish book â€œâ€œâ€œ

This is the claim of the Hebrew Roots movement. Their assumption is one must get back to the Jewish roots of Jesus and the Old Testament to truly understand the scriptures. I believe that assumption to be false as it is a Holy Spirit who applies a scriptures to our hearts different us of Christ.

Blaine

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2017/12/20 17:25

OK appolus. No problem. Note Rev 11:8 though. That city, the great city is the one in which our Lord was crucified.

Blessings.

Re: - posted by proudpapa, on: 2017/12/20 17:27

the Bible is a Jewish book

For until this day remaineth a veil of blindness on the unsaved Jewish mind when they read the Scriptures.

So there perspective is not a good lens for Christians to read the Scriptures through.

clarity

Re: - posted by deltadom (), on: 2017/12/21 14:02

the Bible is a Jewish book

This is the claim of the Hebrew Roots movement. Their assumption is one must get back to the Jewish roots of Jesus and the Old Testament to truly understand the scriptures. I believe that assumption to be false as it is a Holy Spirit who applies a scriptures to our hearts different us of Christ.

It is true, the only person who wrote a new testament book who was a gentile was Luke , this is not a hebrew roots argument just a fact from the scriptures

In my previous post, the jews expect there messiah to build the third temple http://www.chabad.org/library/article_cdo/aid/101744/jewish/Laws-Concerning-Kings-and-the-Messiah.htm

MISHNEH TORAH:
Hilchot Melachim
Laws Concerning Kings

Chapter XI

1. The Messianic King will arise in the future and restore the Davidic Kingdom to its former state and original sovereignty. He will build the Sanctuary¹ and gather the dispersed of Israel.² All the laws will be re-instituted in his days as they had been aforesaid;³ sacrifices will be offered, and the Sabbatical years and Jubilee years will be observed⁴ fully as ordained by the Torah.⁵

Anyone who does not believe in , or whoever does not look forward to his coming,⁶ denies not only the other prophets but of the Torah and of Moses our Teacher. For the Torah attested to him, as it is said:

"Your God, your God, will return your captivity and have mercy on you. He will return and gather you . If your banished shall be at the utmost end of the heavens and your God, your God, will bring you back."

These words, explicitly stated in the Torah, include all the statements made by all the prophets.

There is reference also in the section of Bilam.⁸ There he prophesied about the two meshichim (anointed ones): the first anointed one who is David who saved Israel from the hand of their oppressors; and the final anointed one who will arise from descendants and save Israel in the end.⁹ Thus it says there:

"I will see him, but not now"¹⁰ this refers to David;

"I will behold him, but not nigh" this refers to the Messianic King.

• A star steps out from Jacob • this refers to David;

• and a scepter will arise from Israel • this refers to the Messianic King.

• He will smite the great ones of Moab • this refers to David, as it says, • He smote Moab and measured them with a rope; •11

• and break all the children of Seth • this refers to the Messianic King, of whom it is said, • His rule will be from sea to sea. •12

• Edom will be a possession •13 this refers to David, as it is said, • Edom became servants to David;14

• shall be a possession • this refers to the Messianic King, as it is said, • Saviors shall ascend Mount Zion • •15

2. In context of the • cities of refuge, • too, it says, • When Gâ€d, your Gâ€d, will expand your borders • you shall add three additional cities • •16 This has never yet taken place, and the Holy One, blessed is He, does not command anything in vain.17

As for the prophetsâ€™™ utterances , there is no need for proof texts as all the books are full of this concept.

3. Do not think that the Messianic King will have to perform signs and wonders and bring about novel things in the world, or resurrect the dead, and other such things. It is not so.18 This is seen from the fact that Rabbi Akiva was a great sage, of the sages of the Mishnah, and he was an armor-bearer of King Bar Koziba19 and said of him that he is the Messianic King: and all the wise men of his generation considered him to be the Messianic King until he was killed because of sins, and when he was killed they realized that he was not;20 but the sages had not asked him for any sign or wonder.

The essence of all this is that this Torah , its statutes and its laws, are forever and all eternity, and nothing is to be added to them or diminished from them.21

(Whoever adds or diminishes anything, or interprets the Torah to change the plain sense of the commandments, is surely an impostor, wicked, and a heretic.)22

4. If a king arises from the House of David23 who meditates on the Torah and occupies himself with the commandments like his ancestor David, in accordance with the written and oral Torah,24 and he will prevail upon all of Israel to walk in and strengthen its breaches,25 and he will fight the battles of Gâ€d26 it may be assumed that he is Mashiach.27

If he did successfully (and defeated all the nations around him28), built the Sanctuary on its site29 and gathered the dispersed of Israel he is definitely Mashiach!30 He will correct the entire world to serve Gâ€d in unity, as it is said, • For then I will turn to the peoples a pure tongue that all shall call upon the Name of Gâ€d and serve Him with one consent. •31

(If he did not succeed to that extent or was killed, it is clear that he is not the one promised by the Torah • for all the prophets said that Mashiach is the redeemer of Israel and their savior, and he gathers their dispersed and reinforces their commandments •)32

Chapter XII

1. One is not to presume that anything of the ways of the world will be set aside in the Messianic era, or that there will be any innovation in the order of creation; rather, the world will continue according to its norms.33

As for that which is said in Isaiah, that • the wolf will dwell with the sheep and the leopard will lie down with the kid •34 this is an allegory and metaphor. It means that Israel shall dwell securely alongside the wicked heathens who are likened to wolves and leopards, as it is said • a wolf from the plains ravages, a leopard lies in wait over their cities. •35 all will return to the true religion and will neither steal nor destroy, but consume that which is permitted, in repose alongside Israel, as it is said, • the lion will eat straw like the ox. •36 All other such expressions are also allegories, and in the era of the Messianic King everyone will come to know what the allegory is about and what allusions are indicated.37

2. The sages said: "There is no difference between the present age and the Messianic era but subjection to foreign powers."³⁸

From the plain sense of the words of the prophets it is apparent that in the beginning of the Messianic era will occur the war of Gog and Magog;³⁹ and that prior to the war of Gog and Magog a prophet will arise to correct Israel and to prepare their hearts, as it is said, "Behold, I am sending you the prophet Elijah."⁴⁰ He will not come to declare the pure impure or the impure pure, nor to disqualify people presumed to be of legitimate lineage or to legitimize those presumed to be of disqualified lineage;⁴¹ but to establish peace in the world, as it is said, "He will turn the heart of the fathers to the children."⁴²

Some sages say that Elijah will come before the coming of Mashiach.⁴³

All these and similar matters, however, man will not know how they will occur until they come to pass; for in the prophets these are undefined matters, and the sages, too, do not have a clear tradition on these subjects except for the implications of the Scriptural verses. That is why they have differences of opinion in these matters. In any case, neither the sequence of these events nor their details are fundamental to the faith.

A person should not involve himself with the homiletical statements or protract on the Midrashim speaking of these or similar matters, nor is one to consider them fundamental; for they do not lead to either fear or love.⁴⁴

Likewise, one is not to calculate "ends."⁴⁵ The sages said, "May the spirit expire of those who calculate the ends."⁴⁵ Rather, one is to await and believe the principle of this matter as we have explained.

3. In the era of the Messianic King, when his kingdom will be established and all of Israel will gather around him, all of them will have their pedigree determined by him,⁴⁶ by means of the Holy Spirit that will rest upon him, as it is said, "He will sit as a refiner and purifier."⁴⁷ First he will purify the descendants of Levi,⁴⁸ saying "This one is a legitimate Kohen (priest), and this one is a legitimate Levite," while diverting those of improper lineage to the Israelites.⁴⁹ Thus it is said, "The governor said to them" until there will rise a Kohen with the Urim and Tumim;⁵⁰ from this you can infer that the determination of presumed pedigree and the public declaration of lineage is by means of the Holy Spirit.⁵¹

As for the Israelites, he will only determine their tribal lineage, that is, he will inform that "this one is of such-and-such a tribe and that one is of such-and-such a tribe."⁵² He will not pronounce on those presumed to be of legitimate ancestry that "this one is a mamzer and that one is a slave";⁵³ for the law stipulates that once a family is intermixed it remains intermixed.⁵⁴

4. The sages and the prophets did not long for the Messianic era so that they may rule over the whole world or dominate the heathens, nor to be exalted by the nations, nor in order that they may eat, drink and be merry; but only to be free with the Torah and its wisdom, without anyone to oppress and disturb them, so that they may merit the life of the World-to-Come, as we explained in Hilchot Teshuvah.⁵⁵

5. In that era there will be neither famine⁵⁶ nor war,⁵⁷ neither envy nor strife,⁵⁸ because good will emanate in abundance and all delightful things will be accessible as dust.⁵⁹ The one preoccupation of the entire world will be solely to know G-d. The Israelites, therefore, will be great sages and know the hidden matters,⁶⁰ and they will attain knowledge of their Creator to the extent of human capacity, as it is said: "The earth shall be full with the knowledge of G-d as the waters cover the sea."⁶¹

Re: - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2017/12/21 20:30

QUOTE:

" the Bible is a Jewish book"

I know very little about the Hebrew roots movement; never checked into it because I have no interest in it, like a lot of other religious groups. Unless they reside in our community I will not bother to educate myself concerning them.

However, I do agree that the Scriptures is a Jewish book. I used to find the Epistles boring, repetitious- talking about sacrifices, altars, law, etc (think the book of Hebrews). Then one day the Holy Spirit so clearly led me to study the OT law so

General Topics :: End times stuff and Jerusalem the capital city.

I can think like a Jew. I did that: studied it, gaining an insight what life looked like living under the OT law thereby gaining an understanding what Jewish culture looked like during the Apostles era. Suddenly I understood what Paul was saying - it was like a window was opened and the light shone in. There is some reason why God had the OT and the law preserved for his people. Digging, learning, gaining insights to the awesomeness, greatness of God is beyond awesome.

Sandra