Archeologists find proof of Biblical prophet Isaiah...?

Sure looks like it and it's the first physical proof ever found. The piece is dated 2700 years ago and was found just 10ft from another (previous) discovery identifying King Hezekiah, Israel's second greatest (earthly) King behind King David. Ironically the discovery was unearthed by ISIS as they tunneled under Jonah's tomb, only to be later found by scientists while sifting the debris. Kinda makes me smile at how God works;)
