Here are sermons. Today's sermon is preaching on dry bones/revival.

Would love for folks to give a listen to any sermon from the Pastor and tell me what you think.

Thank you for your time.

Well I gotta reply to bump this up. Please somebody. Greg? Give a listen to the preacher. Make sure for me there is no mixture. No fly in the ointment.

Here is a 5 minute sermon telling ya'll what I want to be sure of.

I've been churchless, and will remain so unless this pastor at this church is right on.

Help a sister out would you?

Linda, I went through the sermon on Eze 37, it was good, he is a good preacher. Please check the following article to find how a New Covenant Church can be found, by Zac Poonen.

The question is to be answered by you, did your heart burn and did your intentions of heart judged by the sermon? If so then this is the Church for you.

Personally I evaluate any preacher based on whether he speaks to my head or heart. To me this preacher speaks more to head than heart. Head means knowledge, heart means life (salvation from Sin). He spoke few good things about personalizing Eze 37, but not much. I would say majority of sermon was spent explaining the context of Israel and how God dealt with them, which is a great knowledge.

Thank you Sree.

And no my heart did not burn. Maybe I am too mental and look to correct preaching. I think that correct preaching and heart burning preacher together is a near impossibility to find in these days in any given locale. Few and far in between.

But if you found a church like that I may just move to your town!

My wife has family out that way and I also have friends that way. We use to live out their. I have been to a few of the churches out that way, but not in valpo. Their is one in lake dale called faith bible church I have been to. My friends and his wife go their. If your interested also they have a small home fellowship on Friday nights at different houses each week. If your interested in being apart of it or going. I can give you the phone numbers of the ones who go to the study on Friday s. They are great friends of mine since 2005. The fellowship and conversations I have with people are great and have left a strong longing for good fellowship since then.
