Thanks, Greg, I forgot in all my excitement to add the link. I once had the chance to visit David him in his home. He also spoke in our church back in the UK.

He is approaching 90 and lives in a retirement home. There are fewer and fewer men like him left on this planet.

Thank you for sharing what is undoubtedly one of the most complete presentations of the gospel I've ever heard - May this seed find the good ground of our hearts, taking root & bearing much fruit to the praise of His name! »

Can honestly say I've never heard of this brother before but am truly grateful that this message was not lost :)
