

General Topics :: books to give to lost friends/family?*books to give to lost friends/family? - posted by madmatg (), on: 2019/12/14 17:49

Hello, I've been a long time member but off and on visitor lately! You all are who I thought of when I asked myself this question:

What are some good books to give to lost family/friends?

The one I have used in the past is Prodigal God - a great look at how the gospel is not just for the "prodigal" but also the "righteous"

Anybody else have any ideas?

Re: books to give to lost friends/family? - posted by savannah, on: 2019/12/14 19:28

"Ultimate Questions" by John Blanchard

<https://epbooks.org/product/ultimate-questions-2014-niv-edition-by-john-blanchard/>

Read here:

https://www.the-highway.com/ultimate\_questions.html

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2019/12/14 19:46

More Than a Carpenter

<https://www.amazon.com/More-Than-Carpenter-Josh-McDowell/dp/1414326270/>

It is a short but very powerful read to help answer doubting questions and portray the simple Gospel.

Re: - posted by madmatg (), on: 2019/12/14 23:10

thank you both! I will check those out

Re: books to give to lost friends/family? - posted by InTheLight (), on: 2019/12/15 9:43

This one might be helpful...

<http://goodseed.com/the-stranger-on-the-road-to-emmaus.html>

Re: books to give to lost friends/family? - posted by narrowpath, on: 2019/12/15 13:16

The Cross and the Switchblade, A classic

By David Wilkerson, the preacher featured here.

<https://www.amazon.com/Cross-Switchblade-David-Wilkerson/dp/0515090255>