It's not a long read and is a balanced and sensible word in my opinion.

In our church we had people refrain from attending because masks were not mandatory and when we introduced facemasks in the beginning others felt too infringed and did not want to come either.

Masks protect the other person rather than myself.

Supermarket cashiers on meager wages wear masks or visors all the time without complaint.

It is sad to see how we are governed by our big egos. Why not endure a little discomfort for my brothers sake. Why not say, dear brother, I am willing to wear a mask, keep distance, obey rules in order to care for your health?

What you have expressed is how I see it. Especially, masks protect the other person rather than myself. It's not all about me.

It's just the saddest thing to see,... not entirely surprising but nonetheless sad :/

Romans 6:16

Don't you realize that you become the slave of whatever you choose to obey? You can be a slave to sin, which leads to death, or you can choose to obey God, which leads to righteous living.
