I used to work part time for a cleaning company (in 2013 I think) and my boss was a hardcore atheist. His daughter was as well (he was 50 ish and she was 19). When they found out I am a christian they mercilessly ridiculed my faith; they would say crude things, blaspheme and play clips by Bill Maher (another hardcore atheist) on their cell phones. I tried to be the best witness for Christ that I could and prayed for both of them.

Fast forward to now. I got a message from her on Facebook apologizing for the way she treated me. She said she does n't think I'm crazy anymore. She said she has fully surrendered to Jesus!

Please pray for her; her name is Cary.

Incredible!

Great story.

Wonderful Savior! I'm glad that His ways are mysterious and I'm glad that we have the privilege of searching out His ways.

In Christ,
