Hey everyone, I'm in need of your prayers. I have been under severe demonic oppression and getting attacked by evil spirits really bad. I have been having a presence attack my body like I have had in the past, the last few years it has gotten better, but this year has gotten really bad and right now it is at its worst. I feel in terrible bondage but I am not sure why it's happening. Your prayers are deeply needed. Thank you John

Praying you will receive clear directions concerning the spiritual attacks assailing you. Through Christ and His precious blood.

Hi John,

Not sure in which direction to pray for you in your situation. It's been a while since I looked at the scriptures regarding the demonic but Jesus on occasion banished demons from re-entry or whatever term in apt. This I believe is because the demon started oppressing when the person was a child.

So it would be interesting to know if this is from childhood.

John here is a link to a discussion I initiated on SI maybe 10 years ago. I'm guessing but if you go through that I'm sure there were many knowledgeable people on the discussion with some helpful insight.

Re: - posted by bible4life (), on: 2021/1/23 17:39

Hey Staff, thank you for your input. My pastor Troy actually has recommended someone he knows who is seasoned and thinks it might help if I go to him. He is a chaplain for veterans and he said he is strong in prayer and in spiritual warfare. Pastor has been praying for me for over 4 years and trying to help me a lot, but though I have gotten better I am again in the same battle that overwhelmed this year that I was experiencing in 2011/2012 when I was out of work for 6 months. It has been getting progressively worse this year and seems that normal prayer, daily devotions and church attendance and even believing the truth is not bringing me healing. I'm going backward and trying to stand on the truth. Most Christians don't experience demonic attacks on their body and mind, it usually comes in the form of temptations, trials, conviction of the Spirit. I can sometimes barely talk to someone without getting attacked as I am talking to them. I will be singing at church and getting attacked. I will have a bad thought towards someone or do have a struggle with sin or just simple decisions that the enemy has confused me into thinking that I have sinned and God is going to discipline me in a physical manner like paralyzing my body if I don't confess and repent of it. I realized that it sounds crazy that it is a lie and I have tried to cast it down and walk in the truth. When I do walk in the truth I will have a sense of strength come back to me but it is an all-day battle and I have had much relief but it never seems to be completely broken. The presence continues to mess with me. This I had been going since 2011 and even before that in 2007 I struggled with the great fear I lost my salvation and you all probably remember that I was always on their and it was because I had lost the affirming power of the Holy Spirit that I was saved. So I was a terrified person all the time. I have gotten better, but I know I am still in bondage and I want to be set free. Love you guys John

Re: - posted by staff, on: 2021/1/23 18:01

Hi John,

Good to hear from you and that you are lining up some help.

My input from the Lord regarding demons is this which I got from God while reading a passage.

Many Christians believe a Christian cannot have a demon because they say "how can the Holy Spirit and a demon inhabit the same house"?

We can see from the story about Jesus casting the demons into pigs the answer. The legion asked Lord can you cast us into the pigs. Animals have no spirit and Jesus cast them into the pigs. So we see here that the demons do not inhabit a spirit they inhabit the flesh. So in my opinion demons do not inhabit a man's spirit whether he is saved or not.

So that tells us that a Christian can have a demon because the demon is not inhabiting his Spirit but his flesh,

Also the demon in this story was trying to harm the man and the pigs ended up being harmed.

I hope our prayers are answered quickly for you so you can get back to a normal healthy life which the Lord wants for you, keep us updated as it will help others on SI and you will be ministering to others while God is ministering to you, so it will be a double portion of victory, yours staff

Re: - posted by bible4life (), on: 2021/1/23 19:06

Hey Staff, that is a very interesting interpretation. I have always believed that since this stuff has gone on that I had spirit in my flesh. I remember in 2011/2012 that the Lord had delivered me one morning where the swelling in my back had went away and I felt healed. Later that week I was sitting at the computer I started to feel something hit me in the neck and back area and right then I knew what I was experiencing was demonic. I began to resist in the name of Jesus in my mind and they began to back off. This became a few month battle where I would resist the spirits but they kept attacking me back until one day I actually felt them come into my flesh or my arms. So I began to stop resisting them and trusted God to deal with them because I was losing that battle. Eventually I got stronger from just letting God deal with it, but it never fully left me. So from experience I believed that evil spirits have attacked me in my flesh and my mind. One time I actually heard them say in my mind we are in. I am not lying either about this.

Hi John,

Well I wonder why you? and why the intermittent nature of it all?

Im sure you've asked those questions over and over. Anybody else in the family suffering the same thing is another question.

Unfortunately deliverance has got such a bad name over the years but it's hugely important but neglected, yours staff

Hey Staff, I don't know one in my family who has struggled the same except maybe anxiety problems. But, I have connected spiritually with the story of Johannan Michaelsen and her book Beautiful Side of Evil, Warren Smith and Gregory Reid stormiest. They are biblically sound and at the same time have experienced similar things I have.

Re: - posted by billy1980 (), on: 2021/1/23 20:41

Just a thought as I pray our Lord gives you clear direction. If there is any occult stuff within your house throw it away. Buy some oil from the store. Pray within each room claiming them through Christ and His precious blood. Dab a bit on the windows of each room. Afterwards you will sense a spiritual peace within your home. (Adding this... I say you will sense the difference, but it will be dependent on the gifts you've been given, but from what your stating I think you will.)

Concerning spiritual attacks your not crazy. There have been times when I witness I feel as if an invisible arrow hits my forehead. I just take such happenings as true spiritual warfare. No demons want to lose their hold on people.

Yes demons do speak. Memorize scripture combating what ever lies they are saying to you and repeat them back. Yes they put thoughts in our minds, that's why it is extremely important to hold every thought captive onto Christ, and not to the evil ones.

I will continue in prayer that Christ gives you clear guidance. It is a prayer I most treasure from my brethren.

“And we know that God causes all things to work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to His purpose. For those whom He foreknew, He also predestined to become conformed to the image of His Son, so that He would be the firstborn among many brothers and sisters; and these whom He predestined, He also called; and these whom He called, He also justified; and these whom He justified, He also glorified.

“What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against us? He who did not spare His own Son, but delivered Him over for us all, how will He not also with Him freely give us all things? Who will bring charges against God’s elect? God is the one who justifies; who is the one who condemns? Christ Jesus is He who died, but rather, was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who also intercedes for us. Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will tribulation, or trouble, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword? Just as it is written:”

“For Your sake we are killed all day long; We were regarded as sheep to be slaughtered.” But in all these things we overwhelmingly conquer through Him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other created thing will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.”

Re: - posted by bible4life (), on: 2021/1/30 9:45

This week I started to do better and I felt I made some progress, but then the oppression came on really bad again.. sometimes it seems like my body will get real weak at times and other times like last night I feel a presence try to accuse my mind of some bad thought and get me to believe I deserve to be disciplined physically and then a presence will come to try to enforce that. I try to resist believing it is a lie, but they will try to manipulate my thoughts and believe that what their telling me is from God. This is some of my daily struggles I am going through .This has been going on off and since 2011. I believe these spirits came into my life when I was working at the assisted living place and I got attacked by evil spirits their in the dementia building. I believe what caused that to happen was that I had got super zealous to minister their to the point I tried casting evil spirits out of one of the dementia patients. Soon after that I got attacked in my back in the dementia building and ever since then I have been attacked and fighting those same spirits since then.

Re: - posted by drifter (), on: 2021/1/30 13:24

Christians can be oppressed by the devil or demonic spirits, but not possessed. There is no scriptural proof for this.

"When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first." Matthew 12:43-45

We see from those verses that the unclean spirit was able to come back into the man because the man was empty. Christians most definitely are not empty.

As to animals having spirits, the scriptures say they do.

"Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth?" Ecclesiastes 3:21

Miracles that follow the plow :: Prayer from demonic oppression

I can remember a time in my life, when I was 18 (I am 35 now), when I was deeply convicted of sin. I was unsaved at the time, but I read the Bible voraciously. Out of nowhere I had blasphemous thoughts torment me, almost to the point of complete distraction. This went on for about a year. I remember lying in bed one night, and suddenly being paralyzed with fear. I heard what sounded like many people whispering all at once; I couldn't move. It was all I could do to say the name "Jesus" barely above a whisper. When I did, the voices started to laugh, but gradually receded.

It wasn't until I was 30 that I was truly saved. When I was, Satan did still try, on occasion, to harass me. But it wasn't a constant, continual thing.

John, this is my experience. I don't know you personally. It sounds to me like you sincerely want to follow Jesus. I would encourage you to not focus on the devil trying to distract you. Instead, turn your eyes upon Jesus. It almost seems to me that we give Satan more grounds to bother us if we focus on him instead of Jesus, or allow fear into our hearts. Don't be afraid. Remember, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." 2 Timothy 1:7 If this is not your experience, the way is open to you. Jesus died for you so you could be free.

Re: - posted by narrowpath, on: 2021/2/6 14:33

Not possessed but indwelt. This was my own first hand experience. I had been gloriously saved beyond doubt and Jesus possessed me, but after a couple of weeks, a team of brothers and sisters prayed over me and discerned something was wrong with me. Demons manifested and they drove out several of them, at least five. Soon after I got filled with the Holy Spirit, and had experienced subsequent topping-ups.

I had been involved in immorality, various occult practices, meditation, and listened to rock music, that was the entrance door for the evil spirits.

To be honest, if the pastor who prayed for me only had his knowledge of spiritual things from books and theologians, he would have dismissed me and said Jesus had saved you, do not worry, go home. The demons would have caught up with me and something terrible would have happened to me.

Re: - posted by brothagary, on: 2021/2/6 14:48

Blessings to you billy, it actually breaks my heart to see a brother tormented for so long2pet 9The Lord is not slow in keeping His promise as some understand slowness, but is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish but everyone to come to repentance. It is gods will that all our brothers come to repentance and receive the full blessings of the atonement, but one thing I know its not always men's will to come to repentance, pride is normally the factor stopping some, and therefore god resists the proud , and gives his grace to the humble, humble your self under the mighty hand of God and he will lift you up. Many people get delivered through repentance without the need of elders , I don't know why that is god is sovereign I suppose, it the same with sickness, you can anoint yourself with oil and pray for your own healing and that prayer of faith will heal your self. but James teaches that whats elders are for, and brother mark Herman is an elder that has that type of unwavering faith. That is the idea we all come conformed to the image of his son and that christ be fully formed in us . Hebrews 5:12- By now you should be teachers. Instead, you need someone to teach you again t he first things you need to know from God's Word. You still need milk instead of solid food. 13 Anyone who lives on milk cannot understand the teaching about being right with God. He is a baby. 14 Solid food is for full-grown men. They have learned to use their minds to tell the difference between good and bad.

Narrowpath, please show me any scripture that says christians can be indwelt by demons. This doctrine can create slavish fear in believers, constantly worrying the devil is going to invade them.

I don't know you personally and can't speak of your experience, but I do know the Holy Spirit will not "share" a christian with demonic spirits. "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." John 8:36

if Christian can fall away from the faith he can taste the heavenly gift one day and fall away and grieve the spirit the next, like a dog returning to its own vomit or like sow after its washed it returned again to mud. Do you know what is in that mud, every unclean thing . 2pet 2..21 It would have been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness than to have known it and then to turn away from the holy commandment passed on to them. 22 Of them the proverbs are true: "A dog returns to its vomit," and, "A sow that is washed goes back to her wallowing in the mud."

heb 6 4For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted the heavenly gift, and have become partakers of the Holy Spirit, 5and have tasted the good word of God and the powers of the age to come, 6if they fall away, to renew them again to repentance, since they crucify again for themselves the Son of God, and put Him to an open shame.

Re: - posted by narrowpath, on: 2021/2/6 18:00

Hi Nigel,

Scripture mentions that believers can be re-entered by evil spirits under certain conditions:

Mt 12:43 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. 44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. 45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation

I was a believer, washed and cleansed by the blood, born of the Spirit, but not yet filled with the Holy Spirit. I dare to say, I was converted but my Christian birth had not been completed, because evil spirits had to be cast out.

Applying verse 43, you could say, Jesus had legally purchased me with his blood and became the owner of my house, as I signed my life over to Him, but the evil squatter tenants had to be cast out. So he arranged a prayer squad to do the job, who evicted the tenants by the power of the law of God by invoking the blood signed covenant the new owner had made.

Once the tenants were gone, the house was emptied of garbage by my repentance, swept clean by his blood, garnished with a living hope and heavenly promises, and the Holy Spirit came in and filled the house even to overflow.

Mind you, after I was delivered and filled with the Holy Spirit the devils wanted to come back - Verse 44, but could not enter again, because my house was not only cleared, cleaned and garnished, and OCCUPIED by the Spirit and NOT empty as in Mt 12:45.

There is a stern warning in Verse 45: A formerly demonized believer could easily backslide if he was not filled with the Holy Spirit.

In the NT, the norm was that a convert was baptized in water and then they laid hands on him to be filled with the Holy Spirit. Note how thoroughly the apostles always made sure believers got filled with the Holy Spirit. If not, they would teach them about it and then laid hands on them, with the effect that the Holy Spirit came down on the believer.

They new full well, conversion was only half the job. The church could not function with converts only, they had to experience their calvary but also pentecost and become disciples!

Every new born child will take its first breath, that is a picture of being filled with the Holy Spirit!

The son has made me free, he purchased me, forgave me, delivered me from demons, and filled me with his deputy - that is my fulfillment of John 8:36.

Thank you for sharing this wonderful testimony Narrowpath!

Re: - posted by drifter (), on: 2021/2/6 18:25

Hi narrowpath, as I said in an earlier post when I explained that passage in Matthew 12, the demon came back (and brought 7 more with him) because the person was empty. Believers are not empty, they have the Holy Spirit. Even a believer who is not baptized with the Holy Spirit still HAS the Holy Spirit. If I have to choose whether to believe the scriptures or someone's experience, I will choose the scriptures every time. Maybe you misunderstood your experience? I have seen people have a touch from God and still remain unsaved (myself included).

Gary, I do not believe in "once saved always saved". It is abundantly clear from scripture that a believer can lose their faith and walk away from Jesus; after this, if they continue in unbelief and harden their heart, they can become demon possessed.

To say that a believer can have a demon in their body but not their spirit is unscriptural in light of 1 Corinthians 6:19, "Wh

Re: - posted by staff, on: 2021/2/6 18:56

Hi Drifter,

The Temple is used as an example here and the Temple had a few courts and in this example the Holy of Holies is the Spirit,

The problem is its not abundantly clear and we have many denominations due to this teaching. For me its clear that OSAS is the only teaching that deals with Grace properly as I have said before. Losing your salvation has a problem with grace,

The warning from Paul here reveals the believers were becoming ONE with prostitutes in this example brother. Now when speaking of becoming one we know there is a mystery behind it as Paul wrote in another epistle.

Drifter, I too after being born again felt a darkness still around me. Inward, outward, in flesh, in Spirit, attached to my soul ect. Not sure about those specifics. I don't concern myself with knowing everything. Sometimes though through doors opened brethren need more help. Thankfully God has provided that help when it is absolutely needed.

Re: - posted by billy1980 (), on: 2021/2/6 20:50

Demons have not vanished. Christ cast many out of people. The apostles cast many out of people. It is still a needed ministry in the body of Christ. Revealed by Christ, and passed down to us through His Apostles, and other disciples before us.

Re: - posted by drifter (), on: 2021/2/6 21:18

(I'd first like to say to Greg: if you'd rather we not discuss this topic I totally understand.)

Hi staff.

We have to balance scriptures like

"And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." John 10:28 with scriptures like

"But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved." Matthew 24:13

If I stay faithful to Jesus He will keep me. To say that I can't fall away is to negate free will. Keith Green said "If I want to go to hell God's got to let me."

I want to have grace to people who hold different views, so if you believe in OSAS, that's okay, God bless you.

Re: - posted by drifter (), on: 2021/2/6 21:28

William, I am fully aware the devil has not closed up shop, so to speak. I've actually seen a demonic spirit, I've seen dem on possessed people, I have felt demonic presences at times. It's a very real battle we're in, and I take it seriously.

I think we all need discernment as to when we should try to cast out devils from people as opposed to leading people to freedom through just plain old repentance and faith. I think some christians are too focused on demonic activity. I think it was Leonard Ravenhill that said "Poor old Lucifer gets the blame for everything these days, when our problem is really sin!" I concur. I don't think we need to go around casting out "tobacco demons" and "headache demons" etc. There is a place for deliverance ministries; however our focus should be on repentance and faith in Jesus.

Re: - posted by Platy, on: 2021/2/6 21:47

Deliverance ministries are like a temporary bandaid and are good for a short term fix. Bible teaching keeps them out for good because the point of entry for demons is disobedience. If people learn God's word and walk in obedience that is the better remedy in the long term.

John 8:31-32 - Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

Re: - posted by Platy, on: 2021/2/6 21:52

And sadly solid expository bible teaching is the one ministry that is missing/neglected in many churches. This is why if you look at the epistles especially Paul's last letter and Peter's last letter the focus is on doctrine/scripture because it solves many of the problems in the church.

Re: - posted by billy1980 (), on: 2021/2/6 21:55

I agree Drifter and Platy concerning this, Thanks for your commits.

Re: - posted by Platy, on: 2021/2/6 22:08

No problem. I just threw that in there because some deliverance ministries the demons keep reentering the person and when you investigate closer its because basically they are not sola scriptura and are anti doctrinal/theology. We need both spirit and robust systematic theology. Can't be unbalanced.

Re: - posted by narrowpath, on: 2021/2/7 13:43

According to one brothers statement here, I was either not saved or not demon indwelt. But I know for sure, I was both.

And if someone in my tormented state had told me you are now in Jesus, safe and eternally secure, do not worry about demons, I would probably have lapsed back into darkness and the man with the OSAS theology would have argued himself out by saying that I was probably not saved in the first place and predestined to damnation anyway, so the will of God was fulfilled either way.

It was actually during the process when the pastor lead me through thorough repentance, that he discovered that demons were involved.

When the man born blind who was healed was examined by the Pharisees, they rather had him stay blind because it did not fit their theology.

There are passages in scripture that are purposely shrouded in mystery, they cannot be reasoned out but must be revealed by the Spirit.

The bible does not say clearly, whether a Christian can be indwelt by demons. For me it is clear, because like the man born blind and healed I know I was delivered and I am now free. If some of you only knew the gross darkness I was in and the glory of Christ that I felt at my salvation and powerful infilling of the Holy Spirit, that happened to me, you would perhaps think otherwise.

I am saying all these things not trying to win an argument, but in view of the OP who for years posts the same things abo ut demonic oppression. It moves me greatly and I wish I could do anything to help you, because I was helped by the mercy of God.

Miracles that follow the plow :: Prayer from demonic oppression

Dear brother Bible4life,

I am telling you there is deliverance in Christ, make sure you have thoroughly repented of any known sin, made restitution, brought relationships in order and get rid of anything to do with witchcraft, astrology, heavy metal, occult books, yoga, meditation, amulets, drugs and all that sort of stuff and ask Christ to send a brother who knows the things of the Spirit and pray for your deliverance. Also confess any unforgiveness, hatred and curses you spoke out or idols you worshipped.

No Christian has to be tormented by demons, deliverance is yours to have, you are entitled to it. Never, ever give up, pray, fast and ASK. Just eliminate any claim or foothold the devil might have in your life.

I hope one day you can share your testimony here.
