In the last 2 weeks the holy spirit has been opening my father's eyes to the grace of God and the gospel, he came from a roman catholic background and reject that religion in 60s and is just above an agnostic. We spoke about the gospel and things related for 2 hours today and he even enjoys it he said, he's 84 years old and still has a fair bit of life left in him. I would really appreciate it. because as far I know I'm the only one praying for him.

For sure Brother Gary.

“Again I say to you that if two of you agree on earth concerning anything that they ask, it will be done for them by My Father in heaven.” Matthew 18:19

Praying Gary.

My mom was 75 when she died but when she was about 72, she was saved. One of my happiest days was seeing her baptized. Lots more that I could share but be encouraged and know you aren't praying for your dad alone.

Praying for your father, that the Father in heaven would draw him irresistibly, continuously to the Son of His love, until he is safely accepted in the Beloved, reconciled to the Father forever.
