The Reason Why Ukraine Will Prevail Against Russia - posted by AbideinHim (), on: 2022/5/8 9:56

If you have been following the events in the Ukraine since the invasion of Russia, you are probably amazed that the Ukrainian people have won great victories and have held a more powerful Russian army in check after 67 days of fighting.

I have been reading daily reports from a pastor that has connections to those that are in the Ukraine that are on the ground and are reporting miracles that have been happening since the beginning of the war.

The few small gains that Russia has achieved are being reversed, and many of these regions are now being liberated by the Ukrainian forces. The Russians are retreating, abandoning tanks. Russian ships are being sunk, at least 12 Russian generals have been killed, Putin has given his command to others while he seeks treatment for cancer, and he is in great danger of losing control of power.

Before the Russian invasion there was a gathering of Pastors and intercessors in Kiev, and powerful intercession was made for Ukraine.

The Russians have destroyed cities and killed innocent civilians with their missiles, but the good news is that the Church in the Ukraine has risen up, and many pastors have stayed in the Ukraine to help the suffering people.

Please continue to pray for the Ukraine. We believe that God is sending revival to Ukraine that will spread throughout all of Europe.

Some unpleasant news

On the state TV show 60 Minutes, host Olga Skabeeva announced: "I have some unpleasant news... Even though we are methodically destroying the weapons that are being delivered, but the quantities in which the United States are sending them force us to come up with some global conclusions. Perhaps it's time to acknowledge that maybe Russia's special operation in Ukraine has come to an end, in a sense that a real war had started: WWII. We're forced to conduct the demilitarization not only of Ukraine, but of the entire NATO alliance." (Yahoo News)
