I'm a bit confused. Is Speaker Johnson's claim to be a saved person and Christian being challenged as not true? Your articles seem to be both positive and negative at times. Or is the point yes, he is a GENUINE Christian? Maybe it's just me having gained a confused impression.

Re: - posted by AbideinHim (), on: 2023/11/18 7:27

We need to thank God for sovereignty raising up Mike Johnson as speaker of the House. Mike Johnson is a strong believer, a man of prayer, with no political ambitions other than doing the will of God.

It really is a miracle that Mike Johnson, only a few weeks before he was elected as speaker of the House heard the voice of God to run for speaker, and this was confirmed prophetically by an intercessor that was praying with other intercessors and leaders on a Zoom call.

I have been on Zoom prayer calls with Mike Johnson, Tony Perkins, and other intercessors.

Mike Johnson has what looks like an impossible job ahead of him, but he is totally dependent on the Lord. Mike Johnson will not compromise but will stand for the truth.

Please pray for Mike Johnson!

David Ray comfort seems to endorse him, the other articles written by was someone who seems to think Christians shouldn't be involved in politics but I thought the information was worth reading rather than taking on her opinion. I'd have to agree with Mike it's not short of a miracle because he was probably the most solid Bible believing Christian in there..

What I can't understand is the mindset of some Christians who lament the state of the world and the state of the West and complain about the sin and yet they can't see that the only reason why we had any Christian value system in these countries was because Christianity had penetrated deeply into the political system which created the seed bed for Christian morals.

This awakening that is beginning will penetrate back into the political system, and the revival will sweep through this young generation and we will see a time of rejoicing for the church and for the West, there will be a great awakening in Israel and amongst the Jewish people we will see a unity like we've never seen before amongst the Jews and the Christians and we will see judgment come against wicked rulers and against principalities that control some of these wicked governments there will be conversion of kings and presidents and there will be a veil taken away from the eyes of the world and the eyes of the people will see that only God, the God of Abraham the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob the Christian God could have done this.

And the knowledge of the Glory of the Lord will cover the earth as the waters cover the sea though deep darkness has been upon the Earth the light of the Glory of God will rise up on the people of God.

In that day and at that time Then I will send a Great flood of Firey Rain that will completely flood my gardens and I will release from boundaries of my garden The Firey Flood that will contain also My Holy Sap and these will invade the Streets of Darkness and even enter into the Garden of Enmity, and many weeds of different sizes will be ripped from there roots, and new seeds will be planted and I Will declare says the Lord a New Name and remove the enmity, drive in a Golden Stake, and lay a New Claim. IT will be a time of upheaval and a time of my Divine judgment Says the Lord , but it shall be a time of Sweet Restoration and a time of Abundance, and a time to Gather sweet and fat fruit, and a time to make wine and a time to build Barns and time to preserve the spoil in fine crystal ware and reserve in my barns for ME to drink and be merry , And for me to consume in my Coming kingdom. So again I say look up, And smell the Wind, for the Rain is coming on the wind , for with the smell comes firey rain not far behind it . Know The Season and look not at the world nor listen to the false prophets of pharisees and the babbling foolish ones , neither love the world nor the things in the world but draw from Heaven, and My will be done, on Earth as in Heaven. Part of a Prophecy 31 1 2022.

Amen Gary!

We are living in the best and the worse of times. For those that are following the Lord Jesus Christ with all of their hearts , it will be days of great glory. I will be posting again the endtime vision by Tommy Hicks. For those that are not serving the Lord, it will not be a good outcome. God is merciful and gracious not willing that any would perish, but that all would come to repentance and the knowledge of the truth and be saved.

That's well and good and worth praying for. I'm for it, but have to admit that at this point that I have a growing concern that the big picture of the end of this age is being ignored to a very large degree. How does all the talk of revival square with Jesus's description of the end of this age - "For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time, no, nor ever shall be." Jesus was quoting almost verbatim Daniel's words regarding his people and the end of the age -

"At that time Michael shall stand up, the great prince who stands watch over the sons of your people; and THERE SHALL BE A TIME OF TROUBLE, SUCH AS NEVER WAS SINCE THERE WAS A NATION, EVEN TO THAT TIME..." (Daniel 12:1 compared with Matt 24:21).

If revival comes, are we also preparing ourselves for the persecution and even martyrdom that scripture so pointedly portrays as accompanying the Jewish people and the church at the end of this present evil age? It seems in many quarters revival is all that is sought while ignoring the context it likely will occur in. I'm not coming against you but just throwing in my 2 cents worth.

Re: - posted by brothagary, on: 2023/11/18 8:51

Amen Mike. 🙏

David brother what it comes down to for me is eschatology I lean towards a partial preterist Post millennial and partial Amillennial view, I don't view things anymore through the futurist lens and so I see a lot of what others see as a future fulfillment I see it as being fulfilled in the past just like other the partial preterists. Another Name for it is victorious eschatology which seems to be able to be held by even historic pre millennialists but not many do hold that partial preterist view. In the last two or three years I've completely changed my view on eschatology so that would be a view that I held for 25 y ears at least which would have been a mid tribulation or post tribulation rapture.

As far as I know most people that believe in a great awakening at the end of this age still believe in persecution . But as far as going back into the Dark ages and being ruled by spiritual antichrists like we were for over a thousand years under the rule of the papal system living like slaves through famines and great plagues that wiped out great swaths of mankind , no I don't think that will happen I believe that the holy spirit through the outpourings has brought us out of the Dark ages and into an age of blessing where the spirit is being poured out on all flesh and the glory of the lord will eventually touch every nation and many kings and leaders will be touched and as far as saying that there's going to be a great tribulation period for seven years I don't believe that ,I believe the great tribulation spoken of by Jesus was fulfilled in the first century I haven't got a doubt in my mind about that.

But like I said brother I've had to change my view I never believe this three years ago.

And it's been a strange transition because it's was something so ingrained into my belief system that it definitely wasn't easy and it took an actual outpouring of the spirit and a fresh revival in my own life two and a half years ago. And then started studying history and studying some of the great men of the past and realizing that they had a completely different eschatology system compared to what I had. At the end of the age I do believe in a gog magog war and that will be when Satan is released to deceive the nations at the end of the millennium me this is not the same as the beast or the first century Antichrist figure.

I Believe the Jewish people suffered the great tribulation in the first century and then judgment through much of the Dark ages and they're coming into a time where God is going to bless them and they will not be uprooted out of their land God will protect them and the spirit will be poured out

Technically they've been under judgment for approximately 1900 years God will lift his hands of judgment and he will graft them back into the vine that they were cut out of because of unbelief in the first century ,so that all Israel will be saved and He will pour out his spirit on all flesh on the house of Israel and the church all in one dispensation and the glory of the lord will be seen in every nation when the Jew and the gentiles are finally United under the blood of Christ through the Unity of the spirit

For this is what the LORD of Hosts says: Once more, in a little while, I will shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and the dry land. I will shake all the nations, and they will come with all their treasures, and I will fill this house with glory, says the LORD of Hosts. (Haggai 2:6,7)

For the earth will be filled With the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, As the waters cover the sea. (Habakkuk 2:14)

The last days will be marked by great trouble and great glory. God is and will pour out His Spirit upon all flesh.

Great glory over the Church!
Great trouble and darkness over the earth!

Brother, Iâ€™m not saying that those that are led by the spirit of God, the sons of God that will be manifest in these last days, that we will not be going through persecution, tribulation, and even being martyred, but we will not fear and we will boldly proclaim the message of Jesus Christ, and like Clint Eastwood said if they threaten to kill us â€œgo ahead make my day .â€œ

Re: - posted by docs (), on: 2023/11/18 9:55

Actually, it's a prophecy regarding a renewed Jerusalem after the Lord's return which the church has taken for itself like so many other scriptures regarding Isarel and Jerusalem. Certain points may be taken from it and spiritually used in regards to the church and certain aspects of the church. But first and foremost, in its original setting and context, it concerns the city of Jerusalem.

I'm through. Thank you.

Blessings.

I agree. Yet you hardly hear this emphasis today among all the talk of revival. At least, that's been my experience. It's almost like if we have this great overwhelming revival, which I'm totally for, that this time of trouble will somehow be avoided and circumnavigated around. The most severe time of trial and testing the church has ever experienced is still ahead.

Meanwhile, there's Revelationh 12:11.

â€œAt that time his voice shook the earth, but now he has promised, â€œOnce more I will shake not only the earth but also the heavens.â€œ The words â€œonce moreâ€œ indicate the removing of what can be shakenâ€”that is, created thingsâ€”so that what cannot be shaken may remain. Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us be thankful, and so worship God acceptably with reverence and awe.â€œ

Re: - posted by ESchaible, on: 2023/11/18 21:28

I would like someone to quote for me scriptural evidence of revival in these end times. I have sought God for many years, ever since I experienced revival among the believers in CA, and the word I have consistently received is not one of revival, but one of walking with the Lord in the midst of trial, persecution, judgment, accusation, and every form of antichrist powers.

The word I have received is more like this, "fear the Lord and give Him glory, because the hour of His judgment is come, and worship Him who made the heavens and the earth, the sea and the springs of water" and that we are to obey the Lord Jesus, and stand strong in our faith in Him.

It is a call for endurance, sitting with Christ in the heavenly places, standing against the powers of the air, walking in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, being a light to the Jews who will be decimated very soon, until Jesus returns with judgment and salvation to Zion's holy hill.

We are called to overcome by Jesus blood, the word of our testimony, going even to death as a demonstration to the principalities and powers the manifold wisdom of God.

Nowhere do I see in a single prophetic scripture anything about revival in these end times; but rather a call to persevere through the darkest time that has ever been in the history of the earth, and ever will be.

I actually see more evidence of false revival, lying signs and wonders, deception that will say "peace, peace", ignoring judgment in favor of blessing, false prophets running around with false prophecies stolen from one another, deceiving, if it were possible, even the elect.

I think the name "Mike Johnson" has appeared in this thread enough times for me to think of only one word, idolatry. Love not the world, for EVERYTHING in the world is at enmity with God, no exceptions - the world system is not of God, and we are called out from it to the kingdom of God. The system of the world and the kingdom of God are diametrically opposed, on every level and in every way.

But I am open to scriptural proof I am wrong.

Re: - posted by AbideinHim (), on: 2023/11/18 21:57

Brother, God is moving all over this nation. You have not said one positive thing about what the Lord is doing. All you have done is to tear down and criticize. What about Asbury? Do you think that the Spirit of God was being poured out on these students or was it all emotionalism?

You have made false statements criticizing servants of God that you absolutely know nothing about, like the lies that you said about Vlad Sadchuk. We that are praying for revival are seeing revival. It is happening in me. It is happening in our church. The critics of revival have always been here since the Great Awakening, and they are still here today, and you are a prime example of one.

What false statements do you accuse me of?

I am a strong proponent of revival, if it is the Lord's perfect will. I have both experienced and been used in revival, true revival where the Holy Spirit brought deep conviction of sin, repentance, new birth to many and sanctification to many more.

Still, I have yet to see scripture like is requested, only accusations and appeals to my emotions. Am I to take your views based on your accusing me and trying to employ fear as an argument?

Re: - posted by AbideinHim (), on: 2023/11/18 22:09

What is your opinion about what took place at Asbury and many of the other college campuses around the nation when students were gathering worshipping the Lord? Was that God moving or was it just emotionalism? What's your opinion?

Untrue criticism you made concerning Vlad Savchuck

Savchuck is a genius of church growth, marketing and passionate pleas to the soul of man, no doubt. He probably has a great marketing and social media team around him, millions of dollars backing his efforts, and even holds to true doctrine, granted more true than most these days. But it's still the world, and it will momentarily move people in God's direction, but like every other carbon copy of this same thing it will pop and fizzle for awhile and one day his church building will be a mosque like so many other huge churches.

Re: - posted by ESchaible, on: 2023/11/18 22:27

Actually, nothing in what I said in that quote is untrue. Maybe you're not as familiar with his organization as you thought? Everything in that quote is perfectly true, other than the statements that haven't happened yet, and time will reveal that.

False means factually incorrect; it doesn't mean that you just disagree with it.

Still, no scripture I see.

Those same campuses are now the catalyst for vitriolic antisemitism and violence against Jews... I guess that is a revival of something.

All I ask is scriptural proof. I can quote entire books of the new testament to support my views, entire chapters of Jesus teaching.

Eschaible brother brother can you show me since you're asking this question of a brother Mike. where is the revival that you say you experienced mentioned in the scripture can you show me where the Protestant movement is mentioned in the scripture can you show me where the Wesleyan outpouring and the first great awakening in America and the outpouring of the second great awakening with Charles Finney can you show me where all that is written in the scripture. We are in the times of The latter rain we went through a dark age between the early and The latter rain and we are in the time of The latter rain The Pentecostal revival the charismatic revival all these revivals were a part of the great outpouring of the end time harvest. I

it's clear from scripture that evangelism and growth of the church is never meant to be done apart from great outpouring of the spirit the church was born in revival it will continue in revival and it will end in great revival

But Brother, I want to ask you a personal question. Are you experiencing revival in your life? Are you praying and seeking the Lord and experiencing his presence on a daily basis? I can tell you that I am.

Brother, the scripture listed below should be the normal Christian life:

â€œTherefore do not be foolish, but understand what the Lord's will is. 18 Do not get drunk on wine, which leads to reckless indiscretion. Instead, be filled with the Spirit. 19 Speak to one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs. Sing and make music in your hearts to the Lord,â€œ (Ephesians 5:17-19)

Re: - posted by ESchaible, on: 2023/11/20 7:05

Mike,

In response to your question about my devotional life:

"Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven."

Gary,
The revival we saw in CA is not a world sweeping, end times revival that everyone seems to be "prophesying" and seeking. There is a difference.

Re: - posted by ESchaible, on: 2023/11/20 13:24

A thought I wanted to share in the context of seeking great things.

While we seek great moves of God to grow churches (this was stated in this thread), and equate evangelistic success with sweeping outpourings of revival (also stated in this thread), the angels in heaven rejoice over just one single sinner who repents.

I wonder... Do we have our priorities mixed up.

God wants His bride to walk with Him, not seek mighty things from Him. Learn of me, follow me; simplicity. Perhaps our seeking of great things is why God doesn't give them to us?
