Hi all,

My Chinese host son(Andy/Shiyu--10 years old) and an escort are scheduled to leave Shanghai tomorrow morning. I just received a call from the escort that the flights have been cancelled/delayed due to a typhoon which is now hitting south China. If you would, please pray for safe travel. Please also lift up the escort too and ask the Lord to fill him with peace and patience. He is a volunteer, so it's his own personal/vacation time he is using to bring my host son here to the states. Again thanks and many blessings. In Him, Cindy

Cindy, forgive the tardiness here.

How is this situation going ? I saw this post when you posted it and did pray, but failed to post at the time.

I still pray for your son to get or be here already.

Please let us know how it goes or went.

In His Love.

Annie

Thanks so much Grannieannie!

He got here fine and is so excited to be back in the U.S.A. We are so happy to have him back with us again :-)

Again, thanks for lifting him up. Blessings in Jesus, Cindy

Praise God Cindy, Thank you for answering so quick.

I felt badly that I hadn't posted when I first read it, but now, Yaaahooo, this is a wonderful answer.

God Bless you and your family Cindy. It sure looks like HE has.

Thank you !
