

Welcome & Intro :: Hello again... from an old Sler with a new name*Hello again... from an old Sler with a new name - posted by habakkuk3 (), on: 2005/10/18 20:10

Hi everyone,

I was on SermonIndex for close to a year under the nicknames of "Gideons." The Lord directed to me to stay off the Internet for a season (back in March) and now I'm back as He directs.

I have read with interest many of the posts and I see the Lord moving in many hearts and lives and that is encouraging.

I'm seeing the Lord deal faithfully with my heart and have been encouraged in the midst of some difficult circumstances. All I say for now is that Jesus is enough. There's victory in this life through the blood of Jesus.

God bless you all...

Wow...welcome back brother. I really missed you . Great to have you back...

I know that I don't have much time to read all the posts on here anymore, but I think it would be interesting (and: edifying) to hear what kind of things the Lord has taught you during these couple of months.

"All things were created through Him and for Him." (Col 1:16)

p.s.

why is your name now habakkuk3? did The Lord ask you to change your name? (just wondering)

Re: Why the new name and what has the Lord being doing?? - posted by habakkuk3 (), on: 2005/10/19 6:36

Thanks for the kind words to all who responded.

Why the new nickname? The Lord had me change my password to something I no longer remember so I can't go back. Since I haven't had a computer for over 6 months my online time has been very minimal (using my son's computer for brief period of time).

The new nickname is what I'm praying will happen is that the Lord will answer the prayer of Habakkuk one more time. " O LORD, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid: O LORD, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy."

I'm praying that in the midst of God's judgments that he is going to revive his work (i.e. bring revival).

What has the Lord been doing these last six months or so? He has been graciously exposing my sins and breaking them off one by one. There's still a lot of work left to do but He is doing the work. The focus has been on the Word and prayer and that will continue to be my focus (i.e. seeking God's face).

It's nice to be back... :)

Welcome back, it's good to hear from you again and to hear how the Lord has been working in you.

As I recall from last year, you were interested in the persecuted church and North Korea in particular, any further thoughts or developments there?

In Christ,

Ron

He is doing the work in all of us. It is an awesome thing to know, that you are in his hands, and that he is faithful to finish what he has started.

I just wanted to say that I know what you mean concerning God telling you to be off the Internet for a time. I've had God tell me something similar recently concerning instant messenger. Sometimes the things God may ask us to do don't make complete sense at the moment, but I think all He wants is simple obedience. He knows what's best and we need to trust Him.

And as everyone has already said, welcome back!

Thanks Yodi. Simple obedience. It's so true!

Ron you asked about North Korea. I still have a heart for the persecuted church and circumstances in North Korea are very difficult for believers.

There's a very good DVD on the persecuted church that KingJimmy recommended some time back entitled "The Cross - Jesus in China" which is available through the Voice of Martyrs. The fruit of the Spirit evident in the life of these believers is thrilling and convicting all at the same time. There's one brother on the video who has so much joy, it literally comes through the screen. I have seen it so many times with tears in my eyes.

The men and women who spent most of their "productive" years in prison were the highlight of the video.

Sorry to digress but it's an incredible video...
