Dom, we have prayer meeting tonight and we'll pray for you.

I had a very similar situation happen with a homeless man who was a bit of a con artist. What surprised me is how God dealt with my heart, I ended up repenting for not asking God what He wanted me to do with His money.

I happened to run into this man again and had to lovingly confront him and the Lord had me pray a prayer for blessing for this man and to forgive him for the debt he owed me but could not repay.

I was blown away by God's mercy and the presumption in my own heart.

God works in mysterious ways. He will completely forgive the man if you have done so fully, yourself. And He will pour on you blessings for your kind heart. He will undo every worry that you are bearing regarding money and getting through the semester. Just call to Him in supplication and in the strength of belief that He gives and is not a God of lack and hatred.

Keep saying your prayers brother.
Our God is Awesome.
