Author Hal Lindsey says his weekly television program has been dropped by the Trinity Broadcasting Network because its message is considered by some officials at the Christian network to be "too pro-Israel and too anti-Muslim." "International Intelligence Briefing," a current-affairs style show that focuses on biblical prophecy and its relationship to events in the Holy Land, was removed from the air for the entire month of December and may never be broadcast again, according to Lindsey, a WND columnist.

Lindsey wrote in his website letter that this week's program "addressed the tremendous political upheaval in Israel — including the toppling of the government — in the wake of the Gaza withdrawals. It warned about the peril the U.S. faces if we pull out of Iraq and leave the perception that radical Islamic terrorists defeated the world's only superpower."

Supposedly its already being reinstated and TBN is apoligizing. There was a massive call in and outrage amongst alot of the Left Behind series fans.

How dissapointing that TBN would even entertain such an action! It shows the anti-semitic mindset in America, even in christian circle, what a sad state of affairs!!

I think it's sad that a show would pulled off the air because it might offend some. What's the price that we should be willing to pay to share the truth?

Grace and Peace...

Personaly I think that they are afraid if anyone is offended they may not send in their "monthly love gift,seed offering of faith".

Yeah, there is a lot of tainted history behind many aspects of modern Christianity. There could be such potential in a ministry that's so available, like over TV and the Radio. But that, like many other things, are so often messed up by what we have planned, or how we tend to want to market and shape things our way.

Grace and Peace...
