

Scriptures and Doctrine :: unforgivable sins*unforgivable sins - posted by claydough, on: 2006/2/15 13:30

There are two unforgivable sins mentioned in scripture. What is your opinion about this matter?

Matthew 12:32 "And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come."

This is more of a process of hardening your heart to the point that God hardens your heart and you actually call evil what you know is from the Holy Spirit. What a reached state to end up in!

I am only familiar with this one, but you might be thinking of that when someone rejects the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross until he dies.

Hey claydough, welcome to SI, I heard an excellent message on this subject, so good in fact that it formed the basis of a tract I've written called 'The final rejection of Jesus Christ', anyway here's the link you can read, or listen,

(<http://www.preachtheword.com/sermon/gospel032-theunpardonablesin.shtml>) The Unpardonable Sin

God bless

hey I am glad for your input on this matter. there are two that are specifically mentioned in scripture. they both carry the same spiritual claim and that is they are unforgivable. the first is the blasphemy of the holy spirit. I am of the same mind as others that this is not just about one sin and it happens. yes, if you continually commit sin, your heart will become so hardened that you will no longer feel the presence or the power of God in your life any longer. I am convinced that this sin is not just one sin but rather a compilation of sins. you can sin so long and often that you no longer feel the presence of God.

the second of the unforgivable sins that the scripture speaks of is in the book of Revelation and it is committed in a single act. The word says in Rev. 14:7-11. I have had people say well that is in the future and only affects them. so was Matthew chapter 12 when it was spoken. some say that, that does not affect us, if it didn't then God would not put it in the word as he did.

the word of God is powerful, sharper than any two edged sword.

further more the Bible does not say in any language that the second unforgivable sin does not carry weight, they are mistaken. it seems funny (not really) to me that so many people believe that sort of thing about the bible. But God did not put those things in the word if they were not important to him and to us.

Are you saying that sin is is aplicable now?

The sin you are talking about is in Rev 14:9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand.

So it can not be applied for today since the there is no law for us to get the mark and there is no beast to worship yet.

It will apply to everyone when the time comes.
